To Whom It May Concern,

I state that Piotr Parys was employed by CPU S.r.l. as a Marketing Assistant in an advertising campaign for the polish edition of the online videogame trading portal Goozex.pl

The campaign lasted from August to December 2009, and Piotr was responsible of both online marketing, targeted to videogames communities and Facebook groups, and of flyers distribution sessions in Warsaw, arranged inside videogames and hardware events.

He was then asked to create and realize a logo and a web design for the website gamespower.eu, and he proposed an endearing mascot that was eventually chosen among many others as the new website brand.

He is extremely reliable, always on time, and he has consistently provided the highest level of service to us, showing creativity, empathy and commitment to his work. He is a true professional, loyal, accurate and fits perfectly in a team.

I strongly recommend Piotr Parys's services to anyone seeking a skilled Web Designer, a Flash Developer or a junior creative professional in any of the fields of design and marketing.

Best Regards
